

If you want climate action,
it helps if you can promote it briefly.

Australia has outstanding wind, sun, & mineral resources.
Powered by renewable energy,
we can radically expand our industrial base, e.g., steel production, & become a renewable energy superpower.

Companies are investing in renewables because they are profitable.
This investment has bought wins for industries, jobs, prosperity, & our climate.

To get climate action, spread this economic argument.

Here are some half-minute pitches for Australia becoming an economic, green energy superpower.

Good for interviews - or a lunchtime discussion.
